ABOUT

I am a UI/UX designer who enjoys dabbling in frontend code. I believe that design is a combination of aesthetics and functionality - it is a conversation meant to bring value to the user. I love collaborating on projects with other designers and developers and enjoy the exchange of ideas and knowledge.

EXPERIENCE

Blade - Boston, MA

User Experience Intern | June '15 - present

As a full time intern I do both UI/UX work. I sketch, wireframe and design a variety of features for mobile applications that are being built in-house at Blade. I have also helped with branding, user testing and the creation of marketing material.

Scout - Boston, MA

Web Designer, Frontend developer | June '14 - June '15

I was mainly involved in web-based projects but was able to provide support on print as well. I wireframed, designed and helped code various parts of websites on teams using WordPress, HTML, CSS and PHP.

East Coast Catalyst - Boston, MA

Web Design Intern, Contractor | January '13 - September '14

As a full time Web Design Intern and an independent Contractor, I assisted on a variety of web-based projects ranging from web design and banners. I coded, maintained and customized clients' website and was also involved in designing business cards and t-shirts. I communicated directly with clients both in person and via email.

Ogilvy: Feinstein Kean Healthcare - Cambridge, MA

Design Intern | January - June '14

As a full time Design intern I completed a variety of tasks. In print they ranged from editing and designing fact sheets, business cards, brochures and forms, to creating internal signage for office events. On the web I designed banners and social media assets. I worked with the account team to come up with the best solution based on client feedback.

Sabre Imagery - Natick, MA

Graphic Design Intern | May - August '12

During time as a Graphic Design Intern I was involved in a variety of projects in the realm of print and web. I did some frontend development, audio/visual work for a video and layout design for invitations and business cards.
